

so I searched for them

they were living with their father in the woods

I told him we would pay him a large sum if he lets us experiment on his children he told us we were mad and rejected our offer ah- so you killed the kids' father?

ok

we never planned to kill him initially

SFA - watch more

it was easy to mask his death as an accident, since they were living deep within the woods your father won't come back anymore come with me

they were hard to deal with since they were children the girl became obedient if you scared her a little, so she wasn't that great of a problem but the boy was the hardest to tend

a few of our researchers were killed in the process

SFX: stagger

he kept pestering us not to touch the girl

SFX: shrike

SFX: collapse...

but we'll start on her as soon as the boy dies
